The Baptist Confession

Courteous Reader,

It is now many years since divers of us (with other sober Christians then living and walking in the way of the Lord that we profess) did conceive ourselves to be under a necessity of Publishing a Confession of our Faith, for the information, and satisfaction of those, that did not thoroughly understand what our principles were, or had entertained prejudices against our Profession, by reason of the strange representation of them, by some men of note, who had taken very wrong measures, and accordingly led others into misapprehensions, of us, and them: and this was first put forth about the year, 1643, in the name of seven Congregations then gathered in London; since which time, diverse impressions thereof have been dispersed abroad, and our end proposed, in good measure answered, inasmuch as many (and some of those men eminent, both for piety and learning) were thereby satisfied, that we were no way guilty of those Heterodoxies and fundamental errors, which had too frequently been charged upon us without ground, or occasion given on our part. And forasmuch, as that Confession is not now commonly to be had; and also that many others have since embraced the same truth which is owned therein; it was judged necessary by us to join together in giving a testimony to the world; of our firm adhering to those wholesome Principles, by the publication of this which is now in your hand.

And forasmuch as our method, and manner of expressing our sentiments, in this, doth vary from the former (although the substance of the matter is the same) we shall freely impart to you the reason and occasion thereof. One thing that greatly prevailed with us to undertake this work, was (not only to give a full account of our selves, to those Christians that differ from us about the subject of Baptism, but also) the profit that might from thence arise, unto those that have any account of our labors, in their instruction, and establishment in the great truths of the Gospel; in the clear understanding, and steady belief of which, our comfortable walking with God, and fruitfulness before him, in all our ways, is most nearly concerned; and therefore we did conclude it necessary to express our selves the more fully, and distinctly; and also to fix on such a method as might be most comprehensive of those things which we designed to explain our sense, and belief of; and finding no defect, in this regard, in that fixed on by the assembly, and after them by those of the Congregational way, we did readily conclude it best to retain the same order in our present confession: and also, when we observed that those last mentioned, did in their confession (for reasons which seemed of weight both to themselves and others) choose not only to express their mind in words concurrent with the former in sense, concerning all those articles wherein they were agreed, but also for the most part without any variation of the terms we did in like manner conclude it best to follow their example in making use of the very same words with them both, in these articles (which are very many) wherein our faith and doctrine is the same with theirs, and this we did, the more abundantly, to manifest our consent with both, in all the fundamental articles of the Christian Religion, as also with many others, whose orthodox confessions have been published to the world; on behalf of the Protestants in divers Nations and Cities: and also to convince all, that we have no itch to clogge Religion with new words, but do readily acquiesce in that form of sound words, which hath been, in consent with the holy Scriptures, used by others before us; hereby declaring before God, Angels, & Men, our hearty agreement with them, in that wholesome Protestant Doctrine, which with so clear evidence of Scriptures they have asserted: some things indeed, are in some places added, some terms omitted, and some few changed, but these alterations are of that nature, as that we need not doubt, any charge or suspicion of unsoundness in the faith, from any of our brethren upon the account of them.

In those things wherein we differ from others, we have express ourselves with all candor and plainness that none might entertain jealousy of ought secretly lodged in our breasts, that we would not the world should be acquainted with; yet we hope we have also observed those rules of modesty, and humility, as will render our freedom in this respect inoffensive, even to those whose sentiments are different from ours.

We have also taken care to affix texts of Scripture, in the margin for the confirmation of each article in our confession; in which work we have studiously endeavored to select such as are most clear and pertinent, for the proof of what is asserted by us: and our earnest desire is, that all into whose hands this may come, would follow that (never enough commended) example of the noble Bereans, who searched the Scriptures daily, that they might find out whether the things preached to them were so or not.

There is one thing more which we sincerely profess, and earnestly desire credence in, viz. That contention is most remote from our design in all that we have done in this matter: and we hope the liberty of an ingenuous unfolding our principles, and opening our hearts unto our Brethren, with the Scripture grounds on which our faith and practice leans, will by none of them be either denied to us, or taken ill from us. Our whole design is accomplished, if we may obtain that Justice, as to be measured in our principles, and practice, and the judgment of both by others, according to what we have now published; which the Lord (whose eyes are as a flame of fire) knows to be the doctrine, which with our hearts we must firmly believe, and sincerely endeavor to conform our lives to. And oh that other contentions being laid asleep, the only care and contention of all upon whom the name of our blessed Redeemer is called, might for the future be, to walk humbly with their God, and in the exercise of all Love and Meekness towards each other, to perfect holiness in the fear of the Lord, each one endeavoring to have his conversation such as becomes the Gospel; and also suitable to his place and capacity vigorously to promote in others the practice of true Religion and undefiled in the sight of God and our Father. And that in this backsliding day, we might not spend our breath in fruitless complaints of the evils of others; but may every one begin at home, to reform in the first place our own hearts, and ways; and then to quicken all that we may have influence upon, to the same work; that if the will of God were so, none might deceive themselves, by resting in, and trusting to, a form of Godliness, without the power of it, and inward experience of the efficacy of those truths that are professed by them. And verily there is one spring and cause of the decay of Religion in our day, which we cannot but touch upon, and earnestly urge a redress of; and that is the neglect of the worship of God in Families, by those to whom the charge and conduct of them is committed. May not the gross ignorance, and instability of many; with the profaneness of others, be justly charged upon their Parents and Masters; who have not trained them up in the way wherein they ought to walk when they were young? but have neglected those frequent and solemn commands which the Lord hath laid upon them so to catechize, and instruct them, that their tender years might be seasoned with the knowledge of the truth of God as revealed in the Scriptures; and also by their own omission of Prayer, and other duties of Religion in their families, together with the ill example of their loose conversation, have inured them first to a neglect, and then contempt of all Piety and Religion? we know this will not excuse the blindness, or wickedness of any; but certainly it will fall heavy upon those that have thus been the occasion thereof; they indeed dye in their sins; but will not their blood be required of those under whose care they were, who yet permitted them to go on without warning, yea led them into the paths of destruction? and will not the diligence of Christians with respect to the discharge of these duties, in ages past, rise up in judgment against, and condemn many of those who would be esteemed such now?

We shall conclude with our earnest prayer, that the God of all grace, will pour out those measures of his holy Spirit upon us, that the profession of truth may be accompanied with the sound belief, and diligent practice of it by us; that his name may in all things be glorified, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

1. OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES

Paragraph 1. The Holy Scripture is the only sufficient, certain, and infallible rule of all saving knowledge, faith, and obedience.¹ Although the light of nature, and the works of creation and providence do so far manifest the goodness, wisdom, and power of God, as to leave men inexcusable; yet they are not sufficient to give that knowledge of God and His will which is necessary unto salvation.² Therefore it pleased the Lord at sundry times and in divers manners to reveal Himself, and to declare that His will unto His church;³ and afterward for the better preserving and propagating of the truth, and for the more sure establishment and comfort of the church against the corruption of the flesh, and the malice of Satan, and of the world, to commit the same wholly unto writing; which maketh the Holy Scriptures to be most necessary, those former ways of God's revealing His will unto His people being now ceased.⁴

1. 2 Timothy 3:15–17; Isaiah 8:20; Luke 16:29, 31; Ephesians 2:20
2. Romans 1:19–21; 2:14–15; Psalm 19:1–3
3. Hebrews 1:1
4. Proverbs 22:19–21; Romans 15:4; 2 Peter 1:19–20

Paragraph 2. Under the name of Holy Scripture, or the Word of God written, are now contained all the books of the Old and New Testaments, which are these: Of the Old Testament: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy, Joshua, Judges, Ruth, 1 Samuel, 2 Samuel, 1 Kings, 2 Kings, 1 Chronicles, 2 Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, Ester, Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, The Song of Solomon, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah, Malachi. Of the New Testament: Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Acts, Romans, 1 Corinthians, 2 Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, 1 Thessalonians, 2 Thessalonians, 1 Timothy, 2 Timothy, Titus, Philemon, Hebrews, James, 1 Peter, 2 Peter, 1 John, 2 John, 3 John, Jude, Revelation. All of which are given by the inspiration of God, to be the rule of faith and life.¹

1. 2 Timothy 3:16

Paragraph 3. The books commonly called Apocrypha, not being of divine inspiration, are no part of the canon or rule of the Scripture, and, therefore, are of no authority to the church of God, nor to be any otherwise approved or made use of than other human writings.¹

1. Luke 24:27, 44; Romans 3:2

Paragraph 4. The authority of the Holy Scripture, for which it ought to be believed, dependeth not upon the testimony of any man or church, but wholly upon God (who is truth itself), the author thereof; therefore it is to be received because it is the Word of God.¹

1. 2 Peter 1:19–21; 2 Timothy 3:16; 2 Thessalonians 2:13; 1 John 5:9

Paragraph 5. We may be moved and induced by the testimony of the church of God to a high and reverent esteem of the Holy Scriptures; and the heavenliness of the matter, the efficacy of the doctrine, and the majesty of the style, the consent of all the parts, the scope of the whole (which is to give all glory to God), the full discovery it makes of the only way of man's salvation, and many other incomparable excellencies, and entire perfections thereof, are arguments whereby it doth abundantly evidence itself to be the Word of God; yet notwithstanding, our full persuasion and assurance of the infallible truth, and divine authority thereof, is from the inward work of the Holy Spirit bearing witness by and with the Word in our hearts.¹

1. John 16:13–14; 1 Corinthians 2:10–12; 1 John 2:20, 27

Paragraph 6. The whole counsel of God concerning all things necessary for His own glory, man's salvation, faith and life, is either expressly set down or necessarily contained in the Holy Scripture: unto which nothing at any time is to be added, whether by new revelation of the Spirit, or traditions of men.¹ Nevertheless, we acknowledge the inward illumination of the Spirit of God to be necessary for the saving understanding of such things as are revealed in the Word,² and that there are some circumstances concerning the worship of God, and government of the church, common to human actions and societies, which are to be ordered by the light of nature and Christian prudence, according to the general rules of the Word, which are always to be observed.³

1. 2 Timothy 3:15–17; Galatians 1:8–9

2. John 6:45; 1 Corinthians 2:9–12

3. 1 Corinthians 11:13–14; 14:26, 40

Paragraph 7. All things in Scripture are not alike plain in themselves, nor alike clear unto all;¹ yet those things which are necessary to be known, believed and observed for salvation, are so clearly propounded and opened in some place of Scripture or other, that not only the learned, but the unlearned, in a due use of ordinary means, may attain to a sufficient understanding of them.²

1. 2 Peter 3:16

2. Psalm 19:7; 119:130

Paragraph 8. The Old Testament in Hebrew (which was the native language of the people of God of old),¹ and the New Testament in Greek (which at the time of the writing of it was most generally known to the nations), being immediately inspired by God, and by His singular care and providence kept pure in all ages, are therefore authentic; so as in all controversies of religion, the church is finally to appeal to them.² But because these original tongues are not known to all the people of God, who have a right unto, and interest in the Scriptures, and are commanded in the fear of God to read,³ and search them,⁴ therefore they are to be translated into the vulgar language of every nation unto which they come,⁵ that the Word of God dwelling plentifully in all, they may worship Him in an acceptable manner, and through patience and comfort of the Scriptures may have hope.⁶

1. Romans 3:2

2. Isaiah 8:20

3. Acts 15:15

4. John 5:39

5. 1 Corinthians 14:6, 9, 11–12, 24, 28

6. Colossians 3:16

Paragraph 9. The infallible rule of interpretation of Scripture is the Scripture itself; and therefore when there is a question about the true and full sense of any Scripture (which is not manifold, but one), it must be searched by other places that speak more clearly.¹

1. 2 Peter 1:20–21; Acts 15:15–16

Paragraph 10. The supreme judge, by which all controversies of religion are to be determined, and all decrees of councils, opinions of ancient writers, doctrines of men, and private spirits, are to be examined, and in whose sentence we are to rest, can be no other but the Holy Scripture delivered by the Spirit, into which Scripture so delivered, our faith is finally resolved.¹

1. Matthew 22:29, 31–32; Ephesians 2:20; Acts 28:23

2. OF GOD AND OF THE HOLY TRINITY

Paragraph 1. The Lord our God is but one only living and true God;¹whose subsistence is in and of Himself,²infinite in being and perfection; whose essence cannot be comprehended by any but Himself;³a most pure spirit,⁴invisible, without body, parts, or passions, who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto;⁵who is immutable,⁶immense,⁷eternal,⁸incomprehensible, almighty,⁹every way infinite, most holy,¹⁰most wise, most free, most absolute; working all things according to the counsel of His own immutable and most righteous will,¹¹for His own glory;¹²most loving, gracious, merciful, long-suffering, abundant in goodness and truth, forgiving iniquity, transgression, and sin; the rewarder of them that diligently seek Him,¹³and withal most just and terrible in His judgments,¹⁴hating all sin,¹⁵and who will by no means clear the guilty.¹⁶

1. 1 Corinthians 8:4, 6; Deuteronomy 6:4
2. Jeremiah 10:10; Isaiah 48:12
3. Exodus 3:14
4. John 4:24
5. 1 Timothy 1:17; Deuteronomy 4:15–16
6. Malachi 3:6
7. 1 Kings 8:27; Jeremiah 23:23
8. Psalm 90:2

12. Proverbs 16:4; Romans 11:36
13. Exodus 34:6–7; Hebrews 11:6
14. Nehemiah 9:32–33
15. Psalm 5:5–6
16. Exodus 34:7; Nahum 1:2–3

Paragraph 2. God, having all life,¹glory,²goodness,³blessedness, in and of Himself, is alone in and unto Himself all-sufficient, not standing in need of any creature which He hath made, nor deriving any glory from them,⁴but only manifesting His own glory in, by, unto, and upon them; He is the alone fountain of all being, of whom, through whom, and to whom are all things,⁵and He hath most sovereign dominion over all creatures, to do by them, for them, or upon them, whatsoever Himself pleaseth;⁶in His sight all things are open and manifest,⁷His knowledge is infinite, infallible, and independent upon the creature, so as nothing is to Him contingent or uncertain;⁸He is most holy in all His counsels, in all His works,⁹and in all His commands; to Him is due from angels and men, whatsoever worship,¹⁰service, or obedience, as creatures they owe unto the Creator, and whatever He is further pleased to require of them.

1. John 5:26
2. Psalm 148:13
3. Psalm 119:68

7. Hebrews 4:13
8. Ezekiel 11:5; Acts 15:18
9. Psalm 145:17
10. Revelation 5:12–14

Paragraph 3. In this divine and infinite Being there are three subsistences, the Father, the Word (or Son), and Holy Spirit,¹of one substance, power, and eternity, each having the whole divine essence, yet the essence undivided:²the Father is of none, neither begotten nor proceeding; the Son is eternally begotten of the Father;³the Holy Spirit proceeding from the Father and the Son;⁴all infinite, without beginning, therefore but one God, who is not to be divided in nature and being, but distinguished by several peculiar relative properties and personal relations; which doctrine of the Trinity is the foundation of all our communion with God, and comfortable dependence on Him.

1. 1 John 5:7; Matthew 28:19; 2 Corinthians 13:14

2. Exodus 3:14; John 14:11; 1 Corinthians 8:6

3. John 1:14, 18

4. John 15:26; Galatians 4:6

3. OF GOD'S DECREE

Paragraph 1. God hath decreed in himself, from all eternity, by the most wise and holy counsel of His own will, freely and unchangeably, all things, whatsoever comes to pass;¹ yet so as thereby is God neither the author of sin nor hath fellowship with any therein;² nor is violence offered to the will of the creature, nor yet is the liberty or contingency of second causes taken away, but rather established;³ in which appears His wisdom in disposing all things, and power and faithfulness in accomplishing His decree.⁴

1. Isaiah 46:10; Ephesians 1:11; Hebrews 6:17; Romans 9:15, 18
2. James 1:13; 1 John 1:5
3. Acts 4:27–28; John 19:11
4. Numbers 23:19; Ephesians 1:3–5

Paragraph 2. Although God knoweth whatsoever may or can come to pass, upon all supposed conditions,¹ yet hath He not decreed anything, because He foresaw it as future, or as that which would come to pass upon such conditions.²

1. Acts 15:18
2. Romans 9:11, 13, 16, 18

Paragraph 3. By the decree of God, for the manifestation of His glory, some men and angels are predestinated, or foreordained to eternal life through Jesus Christ,¹ to the praise of His glorious grace;² others being left to act in their sin to their just condemnation, to the praise of His glorious justice.³

1. 1 Timothy 5:21; Matthew 25:34
2. Ephesians 1:5–6
3. Romans 9:22–23; Jude 4

Paragraph 4. These angels and men thus predestinated and foreordained, are particularly and unchangeably designed, and their number so certain and definite, that it cannot be either increased or diminished.¹

1. 2 Timothy 2:19; John 13:18

Paragraph 5. Those of mankind that are predestinated to life, God, before the foundation of the world was laid, according to His eternal and immutable purpose, and the secret counsel and good pleasure of His will, hath chosen in Christ unto everlasting glory, out of His mere free grace and love,¹ without any other thing in the creature as a condition or cause moving Him thereunto.²

1. Ephesians 1:4, 9, 11; Romans 8:30; 2 Timothy 1:9; 1 Thessalonians 5:9
2. Romans 9:13, 16; Ephesians 2:5, 12

Paragraph 6. As God hath appointed the elect unto glory, so He hath, by the eternal and most free purpose of His will, foreordained all the means thereunto;¹ wherefore they who are elected, being fallen in Adam, are redeemed by Christ,² are effectually called unto faith in Christ, by His Spirit working in due season, are justified, adopted, sanctified,³ and kept by His power through faith unto salvation;⁴ neither are any other redeemed by Christ, or effectually called, justified, adopted, sanctified, and saved, but the elect only.⁵

1. 1 Peter 1:2, 2
2. 1 Thessalonians 5:9–10
3. Romans 8:30; 2 Thessalonians 2:13
4. 1 Peter 1:5
5. John 10:26; 17:9; 6:64

Paragraph 7. The doctrine of this high mystery of predestination is to be handled with special prudence and care, that men attending the will of God revealed in His Word, and yielding obedience thereunto, may, from the certainty of their effectual vocation, be assured of their eternal election;¹so shall this doctrine afford matter of praise,²reverence, and admiration of God, and of humility,³diligence, and abundant consolation to all that sincerely obey the gospel.⁴

1. 1 Thessalonians 1:4–5; 2 Peter 1:10
2. Ephesians 1:6; Romans 11:33
3. Romans 11:5–6, 20
4. Luke 10:20

4. OF CREATION

Paragraph 1. In the beginning it pleased God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,¹for the manifestation of the glory of His eternal power,²wisdom, and goodness, to create or make the world, and all things therein, whether visible or invisible, in the space of six days, and all very good.³

1. John 1:2–3; Hebrews 1:2; Job 26:13
2. Romans 1:20
3. Colossians 1:16; Genesis 1:31

Paragraph 2. After God had made all other creatures, He created man, male and female,¹with reasonable and immortal souls,²rendering them fit unto that life to God for which they were created; being made after the image of God, in knowledge, righteousness, and true holiness;³having the law of God written in their hearts,⁴and power to fulfill it, and yet under a possibility of transgressing, being left to the liberty of their own will, which was subject to change.⁵

1. Genesis 1:27
2. Genesis 2:7
3. Ecclesiastes 7:29; Genesis 1; 26
4. Romans 2:14–15
5. Genesis 3:6

Paragraph 3. Besides the law written in their hearts, they received a command not to eat of the tree of knowledge of good and evil,¹which while they kept, they were happy in their communion with God, and had dominion over the creatures.²

1. Genesis 2:17
2. Genesis 1:26, 28

5. OF DIVINE PROVIDENCE

Paragraph 1. God the good Creator of all things, in His infinite power and wisdom does uphold, direct, dispose, and govern all creatures and things,¹from the greatest even to the least,²by His most wise and holy providence, to the end for the which they were created, according unto His infallible foreknowledge, and the free and immutable counsel of His own will; to the praise of the glory of His wisdom, power, justice, infinite goodness, and mercy.³

1. Hebrews 1:3; Job 38:11; Isaiah 46:10–11; Psalm 135:6
2. Matthew 10:29–31
3. Ephesians 1

Paragraph 2. Although in relation to the foreknowledge and decree of God, the first cause, all things come to pass immutably and infallibly;¹so that there is not anything befalls any by chance, or without His providence;²yet by the same providence He ordereth them to fall out according to the nature of second causes, either necessarily, freely, or contingently.³

1. Acts 2:23
2. Proverbs 16:33
3. Genesis 8:22

Paragraph 3. God, in his ordinary providence maketh use of means,¹ yet is free to work without,² above,³ and against them⁴ at His pleasure.

1. Acts 27:31, 44; Isaiah 55:10–11
2. Hosea 1:7
3. Romans 4:19–21
4. Daniel 3:27

Paragraph 4. The almighty power, unsearchable wisdom, and infinite goodness of God, so far manifest themselves in His providence, that His determinate counsel extends itself even to the first fall, and all other sinful actions both of angels and men;¹ and that not by a bare permission, which also He most wisely and powerfully boundeth, and otherwise ordereth and governeth,² in a manifold dispensation to His most holy ends;³ yet so, as the sinfulness of their acts proceedeth only from the creatures, and not from God, who, being most holy and righteous, neither is nor can be the author or approver of sin.⁴

1. Romans 11:32–34; 2 Samuel 24:1; 1 Chronicles 21:1
2. 2 Kings 19:28; Psalm 76:10
3. Genesis 1:20; Isaiah 10:6–7, 12
4. Psalm 1; 21; 1 John 2:16

Paragraph 5. The most wise, righteous, and gracious God doth often times leave for a season His own children to manifold temptations and the corruptions of their own hearts, to chastise them for their former sins, or to discover unto them the hidden strength of corruption and deceitfulness of their hearts, that they may be humbled; and to raise them to a more close and constant dependence for their support upon Himself; and to make them more watchful against all future occasions of sin, and for other just and holy ends.¹ So that whatsoever befalls any of His elect is by His appointment, for His glory, and their good.²

1. 2 Chronicles 32:25–26, 31; 2 Corinthians 12:7–9
2. Romans 8:28

Paragraph 6. As for those wicked and ungodly men whom God, as the righteous judge, for former sin does blind and harden;¹from them He not only withholdeth His grace, whereby they might have been enlightened in their understanding, and wrought upon their hearts;²but sometimes also withdraweth the gifts which they had,³and exposeth them to such objects as their corruption makes occasion of sin;⁴and withal, gives them over to their own lusts, the temptations of the world, and the power of Satan,⁵whereby it comes to pass that they harden themselves, under those means which God useth for the softening of others.⁶

1. Romans 1; 11:7–8
2. Deuteronomy 29:4
3. Matthew 13:12
4. Deuteronomy 2:30; 2 Kings 8:12–13
5. Psalm 81:11–12; 2 Thessalonians 2:10–12
6. Exodus 8:15, 32; Isaiah 6:9–10; 1 Peter 2:7–8

Paragraph 7. As the providence of God doth in general reach to all creatures, so after a more special manner it taketh care of His church, and disposeth of all things to the good thereof.¹

1. 1 Timothy 4:10; Amos 9:8–9; Isaiah 43:3–5

6. OF THE FALL OF MAN, OF SIN, AND OF THE PUNISHMENT THEREOF

Paragraph 1. Although God created man upright and perfect, and gave him a righteous law, which had been unto life had he kept it, and threatened death upon the breach thereof,¹ yet he did not long abide in this honor; Satan using the subtlety of the serpent to seduce Eve, then by her seducing Adam, who, without any compulsion, did willfully transgress the law of their creation, and the command given unto them, in eating the forbidden fruit,² which God was pleased, according to His wise and holy counsel to permit, having purposed to order it to His own glory.

6. 2 Corinthians 7:1; Hebrews 12:14

2. Romans 7:18, 23
3. Galatians 5:17; 1 Peter 2:11

1. Titus 3:2–5

Paragraph 2. Whereas there is none that doth good and sinneth not,¹ and the best of men may, through the power and deceitfulness of their corruption dwelling in them, with the prevalency of temptation, fall in to great sins and provocations; God hath, in the covenant of grace, mercifully provided that believers so sinning and falling be renewed through repentance unto salvation.²

1. Ecclesiastes 7:20
2. Luke 22:31–32

Paragraph 3. This saving repentance is an evangelical grace,¹ whereby a person, being by the Holy Spirit made sensible of the manifold evils of his sin, doth, by faith in Christ, humble himself for it with godly sorrow, detestation of it, and self-abhorrancy,² praying for pardon and strength of grace, with a purpose and endeavor, by supplies of the Spirit, to walk before God unto all well-pleasing in all things.³

Paragraph 5. Such is the provision which God hath made through Christ in the covenant of grace for the preservation of believers unto salvation, that although there is no sin so small but it deserves damnation,¹ yet there is no sin so great that it shall bring damnation on them that repent,² which makes the constant preaching of repentance necessary.

2. Isaiah 1:16–18; 55:7

2. Matthew 15:9; Isaiah 29:13

Paragraph 2. These good works, done in obedience to God's commandments, are the fruits and evidences of a true and lively faith;¹and by them believers manifest their thankfulness,²strengthen their assurance,³edify their brethren, adorn the profession of the gospel,⁴stop the mouths of the adversaries, and glorify God,⁵whose workmanship they are, created in Christ Jesus thereunto,⁶that having their fruit unto holiness they may have the end eternal life.⁷

Paragraph 3. Their ability to do good works is not all of themselves, but wholly from the Spirit of Christ;¹and that they may be enabled thereunto, besides the graces they have already received, there is necessary an actual influence of the same Holy Spirit, to work in them and to will and to do of His good pleasure;²yet they are not hereupon to grow negligent, as if they were not bound to perform any duty, unless upon a special motion of the Spirit, but they ought to be diligent in stirring up the grace of God that is in them.³

1. Job 9:2–3; Galatians 5:17; Luke 17:10

Paragraph 5. We cannot by our best works merit pardon of sin or eternal life at the hand of God, by reason of the great disproportion that is between them and the glory to come, and the infinite distance that is between us and God, whom by them we can neither profit nor satisfy for the debt of our former sins;¹but when we have done all we can, we have done but our duty, and are unprofitable servants; and because as they are good they proceed from His Spirit,²and as they are wrought by us they are defiled and mixed with so much weakness and imperfection, that they cannot endure the severity of God's judgement.³

1. Ephesians 1:5; 1 Peter 1:5
2. Matthew 25:21, 23; Hebrews 6:10

Paragraph 7. Works done by unregenerate men, although for the matter of them they may things which God commands, and of good use both to themselves and to others;¹yet because they proceed not from a heart purified by faith,²nor are done in a right manner according to the Word,³nor to a right end, the glory of God,⁴they are therefore sinful, and cannot please God, nor make a man meet to receive the grace from God,⁵and yet their neglect for them is more sinful and displeasing to God.⁶

17. OF THE PERSEVERANCE OF THE SAINTS

Paragraph 1. Those whom God has accepted in the beloved, effectually called and sanctified by His Spirit, and given the precious faith of His elect unto, can neither totally nor finally fall from the state of grace, but shall certainly persevere therein to the end, and be eternally saved, seeing the gifts and callings of God are without repentance, from which source He still begets and nourisheseth in them faith, repentance, love, joy, hope, and all the graces of the Spirit unto immortality;¹ and though many storms and floods arise and beat against them, yet they shall never be able to take them off that foundation and rock which by faith they are fastened upon; notwithstanding, through unbelief and the temptations of Satan, the sensible sight of the light and love of God may for a time be clouded and obscured from them,² yet He is still the same, and they shall be sure to be kept by the power of God unto salvation, where they shall enjoy their purchased possession, they being engraved upon the palm of His hands, and their names having been written in the book of life from all eternity.³

1. John 10:28–29; Philippians 1:6; 2 Timothy 2:19; 1 John 2:19

2. Psalm 89:31–32; 1 Corinthians 11:32

3. Malachi 3:6

Paragraph 2. This perseverance of the saints depends not upon their own free will, but upon the immutability of the decree of election,¹ flowing from the free and unchangeable love of God the Father, upon the efficacy of the merit and intercession of Jesus Christ and union with Him,² the oath of God,³ the abiding of his Spirit, and the seed of God within them,⁴ and the nature of the covenant of grace;⁵ from all which ariseth also the certainty and infallibility thereof.

1. Romans 8:30; 9:11, 16

2. Romans 5:9–10; John 14:19

3. Hebrews 6:17–18

4. 1 John 3:9

5. Jeremiah 32:40

Paragraph 3. And though they may, through the temptation of Satan and of the world, the prevalency of corruption remaining in them, and the neglect of means of their preservation, fall into grievous sins, and for a time continue therein,¹ whereby they incur God's displeasure and grieve His Holy Spirit,² come to have their graces and comforts impaired,³ have their hearts hardened, and their consciences wounded,⁴ hurt and scandalize others, and bring temporal judgments upon themselves,⁵ yet shall they renew their repentance and be preserved through faith in Christ Jesus to the end.⁶

18. OF THE ASSURANCE OF GRACE AND SALVATION

Paragraph 1. Although temporary believers and other unregenerate men, may vainly deceive themselves with false hopes and carnal presumptions of being in the favor of God and in a state of salvation, which hope of theirs shall perish;¹ yet such as truly believe in the Lord Jesus, and love Him in sincerity, endeavouring to walk in all good conscience before Him, may in this life be certainly assured that they are in the state of grace, and may rejoice in the hope of the glory of God,² which hope shall never make them ashamed.³

1. Job 8:13–14; Matthew 7:22–23
2. 1 John 2:3; 3:14, 18–19, 21, 24; 5:13
3. Romans 5:2, 5

Paragraph 2. This certainty is not a bare conjectural and probable persuasion grounded upon a fallible hope, but an infallible assurance of faith,¹ founded on the blood and righteousness of Christ revealed in the Gospel;² and also upon the inward evidence of those graces of the Spirit unto which promises are made,³ and on the testimony of the Spirit of adoption, witnessing with our spirits that we are the children of God;⁴ and, as a fruit thereof, keeping the heart both humble and holy.⁵

1. Hebrews 6:11, 19
2. Hebrews 6:17–18
3. 2 Peter 1:4–5, 10–11
4. Romans 8:15–16
5. 1 John 3:1–3

Paragraph 3. This infallible assurance does not so belong to the essence of faith, but that a true believer may wait long, and conflict with many difficulties before he be partaker of it;¹ yet being enabled by the Spirit to know the things which are freely given him of God, he may, without extraordinary revelation, in the right use of means, attain thereunto:² and therefore it is the duty of every one to give all diligence to make his calling and election sure, that thereby his heart may be enlarged in peace and joy in the Holy Spirit, in love and thankfulness to God, and in strength and cheerfulness in the duties of obedience, the proper fruits of this assurance;³—so far is it from inclining men to looseness.⁴

1. Isaiah 50:10; Psalm 88; 77:1–12
2. 1 John 4:13; Hebrews 6:11–12
3. Romans 5:1–2, 5; 14:17; Psalm 119:32
4. Romans 6:1–2; Titus 2:11–12, 14

Paragraph 4. True believers may have the assurance of their salvation divers ways shaken, diminished, and intermitted; as by negligence in preserving of it,¹ by falling into some special sin which woundeth the conscience and grieveth the Spirit;² by some sudden or vehement temptation,³ by God's withdrawing the light of His countenance, and suffering even such as fear Him to walk in darkness and to have no light,⁴ yet are they never destitute of the seed of God⁵ and life of faith,⁶ that love of Christ and the brethren, that sincerity of heart and conscience of duty out of which, by the operation of the Spirit, this assurance may in due time be revived,⁷ and by the which, in the meantime, they are preserved from utter despair.⁸

19. OF THE LAW OF GOD

Paragraph 1. God gave to Adam a law of universal obedience written in his heart, and a particular precept of not eating the fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil;¹by which He bound him and all his posterity to personal, entire, exact, and perpetual obedience;²promised life upon the fulfilling, and threatened death upon the breach of it, and endued him with power and ability to keep it.³

1. Genesis 1:27; Ecclesiastes 7:29

2. Romans 10:5

3. Galatians 3:10, 12

Paragraph 2. The same law that was first written in the heart of man continued to be a perfect rule of righteousness after the fall,¹and was delivered by God upon Mount Sinai, in ten commandments, and written in two tables, the four first containing our duty towards God, and the other six, our duty to man.²

1. Romans 2:14–15

2. Deuteronomy 10:4

Paragraph 3. Besides this law, commonly called moral, God was pleased to give to the people of Israel ceremonial laws, containing several typical ordinances, partly of worship, prefiguring Christ, His graces, actions, sufferings, and benefits;¹ and partly holding forth divers instructions of moral duties,² all which ceremonial laws being appointed only to the time of reformation, are, by Jesus Christ the true Messiah and only law-giver, who was furnished with power from the Father for that end abrogated and taken away.³

1. Hebrews 10:1; Colossians 2:17
2. 1 Corinthians 5:7
3. Colossians 2:14, 16–17; Ephesians 2:14, 16

Paragraph 4. To them also He gave sundry judicial laws, which expired together with the state of that people, not obliging any now by virtue of that institution; their general equity only being of modern use.¹

1. 1 Corinthians 9:8–10

Paragraph 5. The moral law does for ever bind all, as well justified persons as others, to the obedience thereof,¹ and that not only in regard of the matter contained in it, but also in respect of the authority of God the Creator, who gave it;² neither doth Christ in the Gospel any way dissolve, but much strengthen this obligation.³

1. Romans 13:8–10; James 2:8, 10–12
2. James 2:10–11
3. Matthew 5:17–19; Romans 3:31

Paragraph 6. Although true believers are not under the law as a covenant of works, to be thereby justified or condemned,¹ yet it is of great use to them as well as to others, in that as a rule of life, informing them of the will of God and their duty, it directs and binds them to walk accordingly; discovering also the sinful pollutions of their natures, hearts, and lives, so as examining themselves thereby, they may come to further conviction of, humiliation for, and hatred against, sin;² together with a clearer sight of the need they have of Christ and the perfection of His obedience; it is likewise of use to the regenerate to restrain their corruptions, in that it forbids sin; and the threatenings of it serve to show what even their sins deserve, and what afflictions in this life they may expect for them, although freed from the curse and unallayed rigour thereof. The promises of it likewise show them God's approbation of obedience, and what blessings they may expect upon the performance thereof, though not as due to them by the law as a covenant of works; so as man's doing good and refraining from evil, for the law encourageth to the one and deterreth from the other, is no evidence of his being under the law and not under grace.³

1. Romans 6:14; Galatians 2:16; Romans 8:1; 10:4

2. Romans 3:20; 7:7

3. Romans 6:12–14; 1 Peter 3:8–13

Paragraph 7. Neither are the aforementioned uses of the law contrary to the grace of the Gospel, but do sweetly comply with it,¹ the Spirit of Christ subduing and enabling the will of man to do that freely and cheerfully which the will of God, revealed in the law, requireth to be done.²

1. Galatians 3:21

2. Ezekiel 36:27

20. OF THE GOSPEL AND OF THE EXTENT OF THE GRACE THEREOF

Paragraph 1. The covenant of works being broken by sin, and made unprofitable unto life, God was pleased to give forth the promise of Christ, the seed of the woman, as the means of calling the elect, and begetting in them faith and repentance;¹ in this promise the gospel, as to the substance of it, was revealed, and [is] therein effectual for the conversion and salvation of sinners.²

1. Genesis 3:15
2. Revelation 13:8

Paragraph 2. This promise of Christ, and salvation by Him, is revealed only by the Word of God;¹ neither do the works of creation or providence, with the light of nature, make discovery of Christ, or of grace by Him, so much as in a general or obscure way;² much less that men destitute of the revelation of Him by the promise or Gospel, should be enabled thereby to attain saving faith or repentance.³

1. Romans 1
2. Romans 10:14–15, 17
3. Proverbs 29:18; Isaiah 25:7; 60:2–3

Paragraph 3. The revelation of the gospel unto sinners, made in divers times and by sundry parts, with the addition of promises and precepts for the obedience required therein, as to the nations and persons to whom it is granted, is merely of the sovereign will and good pleasure of God;¹not being annexed by virtue of any promise to the due improvement of men's natural abilities, by virtue of common light received without it, which none ever did make, or can do so;²and therefore in all ages, the preaching of the Gospel has been granted unto persons and nations, as to the extent or straitening of it, in great variety, according to the counsel of the will of God.

1. Psalm 147:20; Acts 16:7

2. Romans 1:18–32

Paragraph 4. Although the Gospel be the only outward means of revealing Christ and saving grace, and is, as such, abundantly sufficient thereunto; yet that men who are dead in trespasses may be born again, quickened or regenerated, there is moreover necessary an effectual, insuperable work of the Holy Spirit upon the whole soul, for the producing in them a new spiritual life;¹without which no other means will effect their conversion unto God.²

1. Psalm 110:3; 1 Corinthians 2:14; Ephesians 1:19–20

2. John 6:44; 2 Corinthians 4:4, 6

21. OF CHRISTIAN LIBERTY AND LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE

Paragraph 1. The liberty which Christ has purchased for believers under the Gospel, consists in their freedom from the guilt of sin, the condemning wrath of God, the severity and curse of the law,¹and in their being delivered from this present evil world,²bondage to Satan,³and dominion of sin,⁴from the evil of afflictions,⁵the fear and sting of death, the victory of the grave,⁶and everlasting damnation:⁷as also in their free access to God, and their yielding obedience unto Him, not out of slavish fear,⁸but a child-like love and willing mind.⁹All which were common also to believers under the law for the substance of them;¹⁰but under the New Testament the liberty of Christians is further enlarged, in their freedom from the yoke of the ceremonial law, to which the Jewish church was subjected, and in greater boldness of access to the throne of grace, and in fuller communications of the free Spirit of God, than believers under the law did ordinarily partake of.¹¹

2. Galatians 1:4
3. Acts 26:18

9. Luke 1:73–75; 1 John 4:18
10. Galatians 3
11. John 7:38–39; Hebrews 10:19–21

Paragraph 2. God alone is Lord of the conscience,¹and hath left it free from the doctrines and commandments of men which are in any thing contrary to His Word, or not contained in it.²So that to believe such doctrines, or obey such commands out of conscience, is to betray true liberty of conscience;³and the requiring of an implicit faith, and absolute and blind obedience, is to destroy liberty of conscience and reason also.⁴

1. James 4:12; Romans 14:4
2. Acts 4:19, 29; 1 Corinthians 7:23; Matthew 15:9
3. Colossians 2:20, 22–23
4. 1 Corinthians 3:5; 2 Corinthians 1:24

Paragraph 3. They who upon pretence of Christian liberty do practice any sin, or cherish any sinful lust, as they do thereby pervert the main design of the grace of the gospel to their own destruction,¹so they wholly destroy the end of Christian liberty, which is, that being delivered out of the hands of all our enemies, we might serve the Lord without fear, in holiness and righteousness before Him, all the days of our lives.²

1. Romans 6:1–2

2. Galatians 5:13; 2 Peter 2:18, 21

22. OF RELIGIOUS WORSHIP AND THE SABBATH DAY

Paragraph 1. The light of nature shows that there is a God, who has lordship and sovereignty over all; is just, good and doth good to all; and is therefore to be feared, loved, praised, called upon, trusted in, and served, with all the heart and all the soul, and with all the might.¹ But the acceptable way of worshipping the true God, is instituted by Himself,² and so limited by his own revealed will, that He may not be worshipped according to the imagination and devices of men, nor the suggestions of Satan, under any visible representations, or any other way not prescribed in the Holy Scriptures.³

1. Jeremiah 10:7; Mark 12:33
2. Deuteronomy 12:32
3. Exodus 20:4–6

Paragraph 2. Religious worship is to be given to God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, and to Him alone;¹ not to angels, saints, or any other creatures;² and since the fall, not without a mediator,³ nor in the mediation of any other but Christ alone.⁴

2. Romans 1:25; Colossians 2:18; Revelation 19:10
3. John 14:6
4. 1 Timothy 2:5

Paragraph 3. Prayer, with thanksgiving, being one part of natural worship, is by God required of all men.¹ But that it may be accepted, it is to be made in the name of the Son,² by the help of the Spirit,³ according to His will;⁴ with understanding, reverence, humility, fervency, faith, love, and perseverance; and when with others, in a known tongue.⁵

2. John 14:13–14
3. Romans 8:26
4. 1 John 5:14
5. 1 Corinthians 14:16–17

Paragraph 4. Prayer is to be made for things lawful, and for all sorts of men living, or that shall live hereafter;¹ but not for the dead,² nor for those of whom it may be known that they have sinned the sin unto death.³

1. 1 Timothy 2:1–2; 2 Samuel 7:29
2. 2 Samuel 12:21–23
3. 1 John 5:16

Paragraph 5. The reading of the Scriptures,¹ preaching, and hearing the Word of God,² teaching and admonishing one another in psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with grace in our hearts to the Lord;³ as also the administration of baptism,⁴ and the Lord's supper,⁵ are all parts of religious worship of God, to be performed in obedience to Him, with understanding, faith, reverence, and godly fear; moreover, solemn humiliation, with fastings,⁶ and thanksgivings, upon special occasions, ought to be used in an holy and religious manner.⁷

1. 1 Timothy 4:13
2. 2 Timothy 4:2; Luke 8:18
3. Colossians 3:16; Ephesians 5:19
4. Matthew 28:19–20
5. 1 Corinthians 11:26
6. Esther 4:16; Joel 2:12
7. Exodus 15:1–19; Psalm 107

Paragraph 6. Neither prayer nor any other part of religious worship, is now under the Gospel, tied unto, or made more acceptable by any place in which it is performed, or towards which it is directed; but God is to be worshipped everywhere in spirit and in truth;¹as in private families²daily,³and in secret each one by himself;⁴so more solemnly in the public assemblies, which are not carelessly nor wilfully to be neglected or forsaken, when God by His word or providence calls thereunto.⁵

1. John 4:21; Malachi 1:11; 1 Timothy 2:8
2. Acts 10:2
3. Matthew 6:11; Psalm 55:17
4. Matthew 6:6
5. Hebrews 10:25; Acts 2:42

Paragraph 7. As it is the law of nature, that in general a proportion of time, by God's appointment, be set apart for the worship of God, so by His Word, in a positive moral, and perpetual commandment, binding all men, in all ages, He has particularly appointed one day in seven for a sabbath to be kept holy unto Him,¹which from the beginning of the world to the resurrection of Christ was the last day of the week, and from the resurrection of Christ was changed into the first day of the week, which is called the Lord's Day;²and is to be continued to the end of the world as the Christian Sabbath, the observation of the last day of the week being abolished.

1. Exodus 20:8
2. 1 Corinthians 16:1–2; Acts 20:7; Revelation 1:10

Paragraph 8. The sabbath is then kept holy unto the Lord, when men, after a due preparing of their hearts, and ordering their common affairs aforehand, do not only observe a holy rest all day, from their own works, words and thoughts, about their worldly employment and recreations,¹but are also taken up the whole time in the public and private exercises of his worship, and in the duties of necessity and mercy.²

1. Isaiah 58:13; Nehemiah 13:15–22
2. Matthew 12:1–13

23. OF LAWFUL OATHS AND VOWS

Paragraph 1. A lawful oath is a part of religious worship, wherein the person swearing in truth, righteousness, and judgment, solemnly calls God to witness what he swears,¹ and to judge him according to the truth or falseness thereof.²

1. Exodus 20:7; Deuteronomy 10:20; Jeremiah 4:2
2. 2 Chronicles 6:22–23

Paragraph 2. The name of God only is that by which men ought to swear; and therein it is to be used, with all holy fear and reverence; therefore to swear vainly or rashly by that glorious and dreadful name, or to swear at all by any other thing, is sinful, and to be abhorred;¹ yet as in matter of weight and moment, for confirmation of truth, and ending all strife, an oath is warranted by the Word of God;² so a lawful oath being imposed by lawful authority in such matters, ought to be taken.³

1. Matthew 5:34, 37; James 5:12
2. Hebrews 6:16; 2 Corinthians 1:23
3. Nehemiah 13:25

Paragraph 3. Whosoever taketh an oath warranted by the Word of God, ought duly to consider the weightiness of so solemn an act, and therein to avouch nothing but what he knoweth to be truth; for that by rash, false, and vain oaths, the Lord is provoked, and for them this land mourns.¹

1. Leviticus 19:12; Jeremiah 23:10

Paragraph 4. An oath is to be taken in the plain and common sense of the words, without equivocation or mental reservation.¹

1. Psalm 24:4

Paragraph 5. A vow, which is not to be made to any creature, but to God alone, is to be made and performed with all religious care and faithfulness;¹but popish monastical vows of perpetual single life,²professed poverty,³and regular obedience, are so far from being degrees of higher perfection, that they are superstitious and sinful snares, in which no Christian may entangle himself.⁴

1. Psalm 76:11; Genesis 28:20–22
2. 1 Corinthians 7:2, 9
3. Ephesians 4:28
4. Matthew 19:1

24. OF THE CIVIL MAGISTRATE

Paragraph 1. God, the supreme Lord and King of all the world, hath ordained civil magistrates to be under Him, over the people, for His own glory and the public good; and to this end has armed them with the power of the sword, for defence and encouragement of them that do good, and for the punishment of evil doers.¹

1. Romans 13:1–4

Paragraph 2. It is lawful for Christians to accept and execute the office of a magistrate when called thereunto; in the management whereof, as they ought especially to maintain justice and peace,¹ according to the wholesome laws of each kingdom and commonwealth, so for that end they may lawfully now, under the New Testament, wage war upon just and necessary occasions.²

1. 2 Samuel 23:3; Psalm 82:3–4
2. Luke 3:14

Paragraph 3. Civil magistrates being set up by God for the ends aforesaid; subjection, in all lawful things commanded by them, ought to be yielded by us in the Lord, not only for wrath, but for conscience' sake;¹ and we ought to make supplications and prayers for kings and all that are in authority, that under them we may live a quiet and peaceable life, in all godliness and honesty.²

1. Romans 13:5–7; 1 Peter 2:17
2. 1 Timothy 2:1–2

25. OF MARRIAGE

1. Genesis 2:24; Malachi 2:15; Matthew 19:5–6

Paragraph 2. Marriage was ordained for the mutual help of husband and wife,¹for the increase of mankind with a legitimate issue,²and the preventing of uncleanness.³

1. Genesis 2:18
2. Genesis 1:28
3. 1 Corinthians 7:2, 9

Paragraph 3. It is lawful for all sorts of people to marry, who are able with judgment to give their consent;¹yet it is the duty of Christians to marry in the Lord;²and therefore such as profess the true religion, should not marry with infidels, or idolaters; neither should such as are godly, be unequally yoked, by marrying with such as are wicked in their life, or maintain damnable heresy.³

1. Hebrews 13:4; 1 Timothy 4:3
2. 1 Corinthians 7:39
3. Nehemiah 13:25–27

Paragraph 4. Marriage ought not to be within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity, forbidden in the Word;¹nor can such incestuous marriages ever be made lawful, by any law of man or consent of parties, so as those persons may live together as man and wife.²

1. Leviticus 18
2. Mark 6:18; 1 Corinthians 5:1

26. OF THE CHURCH

Paragraph 1. The catholic or universal church, which (with respect to the internal work of the Spirit and truth of grace) may be called invisible, consists of the whole number of the elect, that have been, are, or shall be gathered into one, under Christ, the head thereof; and is the spouse, the body, the fulness of him that fills all in all.¹

1. Hebrews 12:23; Colossians 1:18; Ephesians 1:10, 22–23; 5:23, 27, 32

Paragraph 2. All persons throughout the world, professing the faith of the gospel, and obedience unto God by Christ according unto it, not destroying their own profession by any errors everting the foundation, or unholiness of conversation, are and may be called visible saints;¹ and of such ought all particular congregations to be constituted.²

1. 1 Corinthians 1:2; Acts 11:26

2. Romans 1:7; Ephesians 1:20–22

Paragraph 3. The purest churches under heaven are subject to mixture and error;¹ and some have so degenerated as to become no churches of Christ, but synagogues of Satan;² nevertheless Christ always hath had, and ever shall have a kingdom in this world, to the end thereof, of such as believe in Him, and make profession of His name.³

1. 1 Corinthians 5; Revelation 2–3

2. Revelation 18:2; 2 Thessalonians 2:11–12

3. Matthew 16:18; Psalm 72:17; 102:28; Revelation 12:17

Paragraph 4. The Lord Jesus Christ is the Head of the church, in whom, by the appointment of the Father, all power for the calling, institution, order or government of the church, is invested in a supreme and sovereign manner;¹ neither can the Pope of Rome in any sense be head thereof, but is that antichrist, that man of sin, and son of perdition, that exalts himself in the church against Christ, and all that is called God; whom the Lord shall destroy with the brightness of his coming.²

1. Colossians 1:18; Matthew 28:18–20; Ephesians 4:11–12

2. 2 Thessalonians 2:2–9

Paragraph 5. In the execution of this power wherewith He is so intrusted, the Lord Jesus calls out of the world unto Himself, through the ministry of His Word, by His Spirit, those that are given unto him by His Father,¹ that they may walk before Him in all the ways of obedience, which he prescribes to them in His Word.² Those thus called, He commandeth to walk together in particular societies, or churches, for their mutual edification, and the due performance of that public worship, which He requireth of them in the world.³

1. John 10:16; 12:32

2. Matthew 28:20

3. Matthew 18:15–20

Paragraph 6. The members of these churches are saints by calling, visibly manifesting and evidencing (in and by their profession and walking) their obedience unto that call of Christ;¹ and do willingly consent to walk together, according to the appointment of Christ; giving up themselves to the Lord, and one to another, by the will of God, in professed subjection to the ordinances of the Gospel.²

1. Romans 1:7; 1 Corinthians 1:2

2. Acts 2:41–42; 5:13–14; 2 Corinthians 9:13

Paragraph 7. To each of these churches therefore gathered, according to His mind declared in His Word, He has given all that power and authority, which is in any way needful for their carrying on that order in worship and discipline, which He hath instituted for them to observe; with commands and rules for the due and right exerting, and executing of that power.¹

1. Matthew 18:17–18; 1 Corinthians 5:4–5, 13; 2 Corinthians 2:6–8

A particular church, gathered and completely organized according to the mind of Christ, consists of officers and members; and the officers appointed by Christ to be chosen and set apart by the church (so called and gathered), for the peculiar administration of ordinances, and execution of power or duty, which He intrusts them with, or calls them to, to be continued to the end of the world, are bishops or elders, and deacons.¹

1. Acts 14:23
2. 1 Timothy 4:14
3. Acts 6:3, 5–6

Paragraph 10. The work of pastors being constantly to attend the service of Christ, in His churches, in the ministry of the word and prayer, with watching for their souls, as they that must give an account to Him;¹it is incumbent on the churches to whom they minister, not only to give them all due respect, but also to communicate to them of all their good things according to their ability,²so as they may have a comfortable supply, without being themselves entangled in secular affairs;³and may also be capable of exercising hospitality towards others;⁴and this is required by the law of nature, and by the express order of our Lord Jesus, who has ordained that they that preach the Gospel should live of the Gospel.⁵

1. Acts 6:4; Hebrews 13:17
2. 1 Timothy 5:17–18; Galatians 6:6–7

1. Acts 11:19–21; 1 Peter 4:10–11

Paragraph 12. As all believers are bound to join themselves to particular churches, when and where they have opportunity so to do; so all that are admitted unto the privileges of a church, are also under the censures and government thereof, according to the rule of Christ.¹

1. 1 Thessalonians 5:14; 2 Thessalonians 3:6, 14–15

Paragraph 13. No church members, upon any offence taken by them, having performed their duty required of them towards the person they are offended at, ought to disturb any church-order, or absent themselves from the assemblies of the church, or administration of any ordinances, upon the account of such offence at any of their fellow members, but to wait upon Christ, in the further proceeding of the church.¹

1. Matthew 18:15–17; Ephesians 4:2–3

Paragraph 14. As each church, and all the members of it, are bound to pray continually for the good and prosperity of all the churches of Christ,¹ in all places, and upon all occasions to further every it (one within the bounds of their places and callings, in the exercise of their gifts and graces) so the churches, when planted by the providence of God, so as they may enjoy opportunity and advantage for it, ought to hold communion among themselves, for their peace, increase of love, and mutual edification.²

1. Ephesians 6:18; Psalm 122:6
2. Romans 16:1–2; 3 John 8–10

1. Acts 15:2, 4, 6, 22–23, 25
2. 2 Corinthians 1:24; 1 John 4:1

27. OF THE COMMUNION OF THE SAINTS

Paragraph 1. All saints that are united to Jesus Christ, their Head, by His Spirit, and faith, although they are not made thereby one person with Him, have fellowship in His graces, sufferings, death, resurrection, and glory;¹and, being united to one another in love, they have communion in each others gifts and graces,²and are obliged to the performance of such duties, public and private, in an orderly way, as do conduce to their mutual good, both in the inward and outward man.³

1. 1 John 1:3; John 1:16; Philippians 3:10; Romans 6:5–6

2. Ephesians 4:15–16; 1 Corinthians 12:7; 3:21–23

3. 1 Thessalonians 5:11, 14; Romans 1:12; 1 John 3:17–18; Galatians 6:10

Paragraph 2. Saints by profession are bound to maintain a holy fellowship and communion in the worship of God, and in performing such other spiritual services as tend to their mutual edification;¹as also in relieving each other in outward things according to their several abilities, and necessities;²which communion, according to the rule of the gospel, though especially to be exercised by them, in the relation wherein they stand, whether in families,³or churches,⁴yet, as God offereth opportunity, is to be extended to all the household of faith, even all those who in every place call upon the name of the Lord Jesus; nevertheless their communion one with another as saints, does not take away or infringe the title or propriety which each man has in his goods and possessions.⁵

1. Hebrews 10:24–25; 3:12–13
2. Acts 11:29–30
3. Ephesians 6:4

5. Acts 5:4; Ephesians 4:28

28. OF BAPTISM AND THE LORD'S SUPPER

Paragraph 1. Baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances of positive and sovereign institution, appointed by the Lord Jesus, the only Lawgiver, to be continued in His church to the end of the world.¹

1. Matthew 28:19–20; 1 Corinthians 11:26

Paragraph 2. These holy appointments are to be administered by those only who are qualified and thereunto called, according to the commission of Christ.¹

1. Matthew 28:19; 1 Corinthians 4:1

29. OF BAPTISM

Paragraph 1. Baptism is an ordinance of the New Testament, ordained by Jesus Christ, to be unto the party baptized, a sign of his fellowship with Him, in His death and resurrection; of his being engrafted into Him;¹of remission of sins;²and of giving up unto God, through Jesus Christ, to live and walk in newness of life.³

1. Romans 6:3–5; Colossians 2:12; Galatians 3:27
2. Mark 1:4; Acts 22:16
3. Romans 6:4

Paragraph 2. Those who do actually profess repentance towards God, faith in, and obedience to, our Lord Jesus Christ, are the only proper subjects of this ordinance.¹

1. Mark 16:16; Acts 8:36–37; 2:41; 8:12; 18:8

Paragraph 3. The outward element to be used in this ordinance is water, wherein the party is to be baptized, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.¹

1. Matthew 28:19–20; Acts 8:38

Paragraph 4. Immersion, or dipping of the person in water, is necessary to the due administration of this ordinance.¹

1. Matthew 3:16; John 3:23

30. OF THE LORD'S SUPPER

Paragraph 1. The Supper of the Lord Jesus was instituted by Him the same night wherein He was betrayed, to be observed in His churches, unto the end of the world, for the perpetual remembrance, and showing to all the world the sacrifice of Himself in His death,¹confirmation of the faith of believers in all the benefits thereof, their spiritual nourishment, and growth in Him, their further engagement in, and to all duties which they owe to Him; and to be a bond and pledge of their communion with Him, and with each other.²

1. 1 Corinthians 11:23–26

2. 1 Corinthians 10:16–17, 21

Paragraph 2. In this ordinance Christ is not offered up to his Father, nor any real sacrifice made at all for remission of sin of the quick or dead, but only a memorial of that one offering up of Himself by Himself upon the cross, once for all;¹and a spiritual oblation of all possible praise unto God for the same.²So that the popish sacrifice of the mass, as they call it, is most abominable, injurious to Christ's own sacrifice the alone propitiation for all the sins of the elect.

1. Hebrews 9:25–26, 28

2. 1 Corinthians 11:24; Matthew 26:26–27

Paragraph 3. The Lord Jesus hath, in this ordinance, appointed His ministers to pray, and bless the elements of bread and wine, and thereby to set them apart from a common to a holy use, and to take and break the bread; to take the cup, and, they communicating also themselves, to give both to the communicants.¹

1. 1 Corinthians 11:23–26

Paragraph 4. The denial of the cup to the people, worshipping the elements, the lifting them up, or carrying them about for adoration, and reserving them for any pretended religious use, are all contrary to the nature of this ordinance, and to the institution of Christ.¹

1. Matthew 26:26–28; 15:9; Exodus 20:4–5

Paragraph 5. The outward elements in this ordinance, duly set apart to the use ordained by Christ, have such relation to Him crucified, as that truly, although in terms used figuratively, they are sometimes called by the names of the things they represent, in other words, the body and blood of Christ,¹ albeit, in substance and nature, they still remain truly and only bread and wine, as they were before.²

1. 1 Corinthians 11:27
2. 1 Corinthians 11:26–28

Paragraph 6. That doctrine which maintains a change of the substance of bread and wine, into the substance of Christ's body and blood, commonly called transubstantiation, by consecration of a priest, or by any other way, is repugnant not to Scripture alone,¹ but even to common sense and reason, overthrows the nature of the ordinance, and has been, and is, the cause of manifold superstitions, yea, of gross idolatries.²

1. Acts 3:21; Luke 14:6
2. 1 Corinthians 11:24–25

Paragraph 7. Worthy receivers, outwardly partaking of the visible elements in this ordinance, do then also inwardly by faith, really and indeed, yet not carnally and corporally, but spiritually receive, and feed upon Christ crucified, and all the benefits of His death; the body and blood of Christ being then not corporally or carnally, but spiritually present to the faith of believers in that ordinance, as the elements themselves are to their outward senses.¹

1. 1 Corinthians 10:16; 11:23–26

Paragraph 8. All ignorant and ungodly persons, as they are unfit to enjoy communion with Christ, so are they unworthy of the Lord's table, and cannot, without great sin against Him, while they remain such, partake of these holy mysteries, or be admitted thereunto;¹ yea, whosoever shall receive unworthily, are guilty of the body and blood of the Lord, eating and drinking judgment to themselves.²

1. 2 Corinthians 6:14–15
2. 1 Corinthians 11:29; Matthew 7:6

31. OF THE STATE OF MAN AFTER DEATH, AND OF THE RESURRECTION OF THE DEAD

Paragraph 1. The bodies of men after death return to dust, and see corruption;¹but their souls, which neither die nor sleep, having an immortal subsistence, immediately return to God who gave them.²The souls of the righteous being then made perfect in holiness, are received into paradise, where they are with Christ, and behold the face of God in light and glory, waiting for the full redemption of their bodies;³and the souls of the wicked are cast into hell; where they remain in torment and utter darkness, reserved to the judgement of the great day;⁴besides these two places, for souls separated from their bodies, the Scripture acknowledgeth none.

1. Genesis 3:19; Acts 13:36

2. Ecclesiastes 12:7

3. Luke 23:43; 2 Corinthians 5:1, 6, 8; Philippians 1:23; Hebrews 12:23

4. Jude 6–7; 1 Peter 3:19; Luke 16:23–24

2. Job 19:26–27

3. 1 Corinthians 15:42–43

1. Acts 24:15; John 5:28–29; Philippians 3:21

32. OF THE LAST JUDGMENT

Paragraph 1. God hath appointed a day wherein He will judge the world in righteousness, by Jesus Christ;¹to whom all power and judgment is given of the Father; in which day, not only the apostate angels shall be judged,²but likewise all persons that have lived upon the earth shall appear before the tribunal of Christ, to give an account of their thoughts, words, and deeds, and to receive according to what they have done in the body, whether good or evil.³

1. Acts 17:31; John 5:22, 27
2. 1 Corinthians 6:3; Jude 6
3. 2 Corinthians 5:10; Ecclesiastes 12:14; Matthew 12:36; Romans 14:10, 12; Matthew 25:32–46

Paragraph 2. The end of God's appointing this day, is for the manifestation of the glory of His mercy, in the eternal salvation of the elect; and of His justice, in the eternal damnation of the reprobate, who are wicked and disobedient;¹for then shall the righteous go into everlasting life, and receive that fulness of joy and glory with everlasting rewards, in the presence of the Lord; but the wicked, who do not know God, and do not obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ, shall be cast aside into everlasting torments,²and punished with everlasting destruction, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of His power.³

1. Romans 9:22–23
2. Matthew 25:21, 34; 2 Timothy 4:8
3. Matthew 25:46; Mark 9:48; 2 Thessalonians 1:7–10

Paragraph 3. As Christ would have us to be certainly persuaded that there shall be a Day of Judgment, both to deter all men from sin,¹and for the greater consolation of the godly in their adversity,²so will He have the day unknown to men, that they may shake off all carnal security, and be always watchful, because they know not at what hour the Lord will come,³and may ever be prepared to say, Come Lord Jesus; come quickly.⁴Amen.

1. 2 Corinthians 5:10–11

2. 2 Thessalonians 1:5–7

3. Mark 13:35–37; Luke 12:35–40

An Orthodox Catechism

Unto the Church of Christ, who upon Confession of Faith have bin Baptised, Meeting in Old-Gravil-Lane London, Grace Mercy and Peace be multiplied unto you, and the good will of him which dwelt in the Bush be with your Spirits, Amen.

Dearly Beloved,

Forasmuch as there is but a small time allotted unto any of us in this World, and not knowing but my Staff standeth next the Door ready to depart, I am desirous in this respect so to bestow my precious and present time in my Lords business, as I may not return to him with my Talent wrapt up in a Napkin, but may leave behind me same poor token and testimony of my Love and Duty towards him, and his blessed Spouse the Church.

And forasmuch as the day we live in is very gloomy and dark, full of Error and Heresie, which spreads more and more (through the indefatigable indeavours of the maintainers of it) like an overflowing Leprosie, and eateth as doth a Canker.

Also considering it is a day of great declension in love to God and one to another also, from those Gospel Truths, the least of which is more worth then our lives: all which may give God just cause to say to England's Professors, as once to Israel, What iniquity have your Fathers found in me that they are gone away far from me? As if God should say, Am I not the same as ever in Power, Goodness, Faithfulness? is not my Word and Ordinances the same, yea my Promises and Heaven the same now as ever?

Now that you may not be shaken, shattered and carried away with every wind and blast, every puff and breath of Error, and Heresie; also that you may be the better established, strengthened, and settled on that sure Rock and Foundation of Salvation, Christ's Merits, in opposition to the poor imperfect works of an impotent Creature; also settled on the foundation of Church-constitution, on which you are already built, through the Grace of God which stirred you up to search the divine Oracle, and Rule of Divine Service, as Ezra and Nehemiah searched into the particular parts of Gods Worship, by which means they came to the practice of that almost lost Ordinance of God, the Feast of Tabernacles, which for many years was not practised after the due order, though a general notion was retained about it; I say, under these Considerations, I have in charitable regard to your Souls, presented you with this small (but I am bold to say) sound piece of Divinity, which may not unfitly be stiled an Abridgment, or Epitome of Law and Gospel, suited to every ones capacity in God's House: here is Milk for Babes, and Meat for strong Men. It may not unfitly be compared to the Waters of the Sanctuary, where some may go up to the Anles, others to the Knees, others to the Loins, and they are deep enough for others to swim in. Here you are not only taught to be good Christians, but good Moralists; the want of which among them that have the Leaves and Lamps of Profession (as 'tis to be feared such have little more) is of a heart-breaking Consideration to many that desire to walk wit God.

Now albeit here may be many things which some of you may know already, yet unto such those things I hope will be as acceptable as St. Peter's Epistles were to the scattered Saints, though they knew much of the matter before; yet I dare say here is some things which may be for information as well as establishment to the most knowing among you.

I have not undertaken to present you with new Notions or Principles, hoping an Athenian Spirit is in none of you, but do believe that an old Gospel (to you that have tasted the sweetness of it) will be more acceptable than a new, though published by an Angel from Heaven.

In what I have written you will see I concenter with the most Orthodox Divines in the Fundamental Principles and Articles of the Christian Faith, and also have industriously expressed them in the same words, which have on the like occasion bin spoken, only differing in some things about Church-constitution, wherein I have taken a little pains to shew you the true form of God's House, with the coming in thereof, and the going out thereof; but I hope my Zeal in this will not be misinterpreted by any that truly fear God. That God whom we serve is very jealous of his Worship; and forasmuch as by his Providence the Law of his House hath bin preserved and continued to us, we look upon it as our Duty in our generation to be searching out the mind of God in his holy Oracle, as Ezra and Nehemiah did the Feast of Tabernacles, and to reform what is amiss;

As Hezekiah, who took a great deal of pains to cleanse the House of God, and set all things in order, that were out of order, particularly caused the People to keep the Passover according to the Institution: for it had not, saith the Text, bin of a long time kept in such sort as it was written; and albeit the pure Institutions of Christ were not for some hundred of years practised according to the due order, or very little, through the Innovations of Antichrist; And as Circumcision for about forty years was unpractised in the Wilderness, yet as Josuah puts this duty in practice as soon as God signified his mind in that particular; so we having our Judgments informed about the true way of Worship, do not dare to stifle the Light God hath given us.

Now albeit there are some differences between many Godly Divines and us in Church-Constitution, yet inasmuch as those things are not the Essence of Christianity, but that we do agree in the fundamental Doctrine thereof, there is sufficient ground to lay aside all bitterness and prejudice, and labour to maintain a Spirit of Love each to other, knowing we shall never see all alike here. We find in the primitive times that the Baptism of Christ was not universally known, witness the ignorance of Apollos that eminent Disciple and Minister, which knew only the Baptism of John. And if God shall enlighten any into any Truth, which they shall stifle for base and unwarrantable ends, know that 'tis God must judg, and not Man. And wherein we cannot concur, let us leave that to the comming of Christ Jesus, as they did their difficult cases in the Church of old until there did arise a Priest with Urim and Thummim, that might certainly inform them of the mind of God there-about.

I have proposed three Creeds to your consideration, which ought thoroughly to be believed and embraced by all those that would be accounted Christians, viz. the Nicene Creed, Athanasius his Creed, and the Creed commonly called the Apostles; The last of which contains the sum of the Gospel; which is industriously opened and explained; and I beseech you do not slight it because of its Form, nor Antiquity, nor because supposed to be composed by Men; neither because some that hold it, maintain some Errors, or whose Conversation may not be correspondent to such fundamental Principles of Salvation; but take this for a perpetual Rule, That whatever is good in any, owned by any, whatever Error or Vice it may be mixed withal, the Good must not be rejected for the Error or Vice sake, but owned, commended, and accepted. Here is also in the close of the Book a brief, but full Exposition of that Prayer Christ taught his Disciples. Also the Decalogue, or ten Commandments unfolded.

Now forasmuch as I have taken a great deal of pains in gathering these broken fragments together for your utility and profit, I hope you will take a little pains to read it, and more to live it; and I pray do it seriously and observingly. Read it humbly and frequently, read it with prayer and meditation, then am I sure thou who art a true Christian wilt love it more & more. And as you love your own Souls, love your Childrens, and declare it in praying for them, as Job did for his, and instructing them as Abraham did his; also winning them to good by a good Example. And that this Book may be of advantage to Youth as well as others, it is catechistically handled for their more easie learning the Principles of Christian Religion, that so they being seasoned with the true Articles of Christian Faith, may not so easily be tainted with the sentiments of Men of corrupt minds in time of Temptation. And it is heartily desired that Parents, especially professing ones, were more concerned for the everlasting welfare of their Children, as David was for Solomon, when he charged him near his death to keep the Commandments and Judgments of God above all. And if Parents would but conscientiously read those Divine Oracles which hold forth their Duty to their Children, it would doubtless be to them of great advantage.

As for this that I have presented to publick view, I beg the Readers kind indulgence as to the faults escaped therein: And for those whom the Lord hath committed to my Charge, that the Eternal God may be your Refuge, and underneath you everlasting Arms; that Grace may be opened to your Hearts, and your Hearts to Grace; that the blessing of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob may be upon you, and the eternal Spirit may be with you, shall be the Prayer of your unworthy Brother, but more unworthy Pastor,

H. C.

1. Introduction

Question 1 - What is thy only comfort in Life and Death?

Answer: That both in Soul and¹Body, whether I live or dye,²I am not mine own, but³belong wholly unto my most faithful Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: who by his most precious Blood⁴fully satisfying for all my Sins, hath⁵delivered me from all the power of the Devil, and so⁶preserveth me, that without the will of my Heavenly Father not so much as an Hair may⁷fall from my Head; yea all things⁸must serve for my safety: wherefore by his Spirit also he⁹assureth me of everlasting Life, and¹⁰maketh me ready and prepared, that henceforth I may live to him.

Question 2 - How many things are necessary for thee to know, that thou enjoying this comfort mayst live and dye happily?

Answer: ¹Three. The first, what is the ²greatness of my sin and misery. The second, how I am ³delivered from all Sin and Misery. The third, what thanks I ⁴owe unto God for this delivery.

Answer: Out of the Law of ¹God.

1. Romans 3:20; Romans 7:5,13; Romans 5:20

Question 4 - What doth the Law of God require of us?

Answer: That which Christ doth summarily teach us, Matthew 22:37–40. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy Heart, and with all thy Soul, and with all thy Mind, and with all thy ¹Strength. This is the first and the great Commandment; and the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy Neighbour as thy self. On these two Commandments hang the whole Law and the Prophets.

1. Luke 10:27

Question 5 - Art thou able to keep all these things perfectly?

 2. Romans 8:7; Ephesians 2:3; Titus 3:3

Question 6 - Did God then make man so wicked and perverse?

Answer: Not¹so, but rather he made him good, and to his own²Image; that is, indued with true Righteousness and Holiness, that he might rightly know God his Creator, and heartily love him, and live with him blessed for ever, and that to laud and magnify³him.

 2. Genesis 1:26–27
 3. 2 Corinthians 3:18; Colossians 3:10; Ephesians 4:24

1. Romans 5:12; Romans 5:18–19
 2. Psalm 51:5; Genesis 5:3

Question 9 - Doth not God then Injury to Man who in the Law requireth that of him which he is not able to perform?

1. John 3:5; Ephesians 4:24
 2. Luke 10:30

Question 10 - Doth God leave this stubbornness and falling away of Man unpunished?

Answer: No: but is angry in most dreadful¹manner, as well for the sins wherein we are born, as also for those which our selves commit, and in most just Judgment punisheth them with present and everlasting Punishments, as himself pronounceth: Cursed be he that confirmeth not all the words of this Law to do²them.

1. Romans 5:12
 2. Deuteronomy 27:26; Galatians 3:10

Question 11 - Is not God therefore merciful?

 2. Exodus 20:5; 2 Corinthians 6:14

1. Exodus 20:5–7; Exodus 23:7
 2. Romans 8:3
-

Question 13 - Are we able to satisfy by our selves?

Answer: Not a whit. Nay rather we do every day¹increase our debt.

1. Job 9:2–3; Job 15:15; Matthew 6:12

Question 14 - Is there any creature in Heaven or in Earth, which is only a creature, able to satisfy for us?

1. Romans 5:12,17
 2. 1 Peter 3:18; Hebrews 7:26

Answer: It is not only a knowledg, whereby I surely assent to all things which God¹hath revealed unto us in his Word, but also an²hassured trust kindled in³my heart by the Holy Ghost, through the Gospel, whereby I make my repose in God, being assuredly resolved that Remission of Sins, everlasting⁴Righteousness, and life is given not to others only, but to me also, and that freely through the Mercy of God, for⁵for the Merits of Christ alone.

Question 22 - What are those things which are necessary for a Christian man to believe?

Answer: All things which are promised us in the Gospel: the sum whereof is briefly comprised in the Articles of the Catholick and undoubted Faith of all true Christians, commonly called the Creed. I believe in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth; and in Jesus Christ his only Son, our Lord, which was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead & buried, he descended into Hell; the third day he arose again from the dead, and ascended into Heaven, from whence he shall come to judge both the quick and the dead. I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholick Church, the Communion of Saints, the forgiveness of sins, the Resurrection of the Body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

Question 23 - Into how many parts is this Creed divided?

Answer: Into three: the first of the eternal Father, and our Creation: the second of the Son and our Redemption: the third of the Holy Ghost, and our Sanctification.

Question 25 - What believest thou when thou sayest, I believe in God the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth?

Answer: I believe the everlasting Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,¹who made of nothing Heaven and Earth, with all that are in them; who likewise upholdeth²and governeth the same by his eternal Counsel and³Providence. This God I believe to be my God and Father for Christ sake; and therefore so trust in him, and rely on him, that I make no doubt but he will provide all⁴things necessary both for my soul and body; and further, whatsoever evils he sendeth on me in this troublesome life, he⁵will turn them to my safety; seing both he is able to do it, as being⁶God Almighty, and willing to do it, as⁷being a bountiful Father.

Question 26 - What is the Providence of God?

Answer: The almighty Power of God, every where¹present, whereby he doth as it were by his hand uphold²and govern Heaven and Earth, with all the Creatures therein, so that those things which grow in the Earth, as likewise rain and drowth, fruitfulness and barrenness, meat³and⁴and drink, health and⁵sickness, riches and poverty; in a word, all things come not rashly and by chance, but by his fatherly Counsel and will.

Question 27 - What doth this knowledg of the Creation and Providence of God profit us?

Answer: That in¹adversity we may be patient,²and thankful in prosperity,³and have hereafter our chieftest hope reposed in God our most faithful Father; being sure that there is nothing which⁴may withdraw us from his love; forasmuch as all creatures are so in his Power, that without his Will they are⁵not able not only to do any thing, but not so much as once to move.

 2. Hebrews 7:25; Acts 4:12

Question 29 - Do they then believe in the only Saviour Jesus, who seek for happiness and safety of the Saints, or of themselves, or else where?

Answer: No: for although in word they boast themselves of him as their only Saviour, yet indeed they deny the only¹Saviour Jesus: for it must needs be that either Jesus is not a perfect Saviour, or that those who imbrace him as their Saviour with a true faith, possess all things in him²which are required unto Salvation.

 2. Hebrews 12:2; Isaiah 9:6; Colossians 1:19–20; Colossians 2:10; Isaiah 43:11,25; John 1:16

Question 30 - Why is he called Christ, that is, anointed?

Answer: Because he was ordained of the Father, and anointed of the holy Ghost¹the chief Prophet²and Teacher, who³hath opened unto us the secret Counsel, & all the will of his Father concerning our Redemption, and the high Preist, who with that one only Sacrifice of his Body⁴hath redeemed us, and doth⁵continually make Intercession to his Father for us; and a King, who ruleth us by his Word and Spirit, and defendeth⁶and maintaineth that Salvation which he hath purchased for us.

Question 32 - For what cause is Christ called the only begotten Son of God, when we also are the Sons of God?

Question 70 - Are no Infants to be baptized?

Answer: None by no means; for we have neither Precept nor Example for that Practice in all the Book of God.

Question 71 - Doth the Scripture any where expressly forbid the Baptizing of Infants?

Answer: It is sufficient that the Divine Oracle commands the baptizing of Believers, unless we will make our selves wiser than what is written. Nadab and Abihu were not forbidden to offer strange Fire, yet for so doing they incurred God's Wrath, because they were commanded to take Fire from the Altar.¹

1. Matthew 28:18–19; Mark 16:16; Leviticus 9:24; Leviticus 10:16

Question 72 - May not the Infant Seed of Believers under the Gospel be baptized as well as the Infant Seed of Abraham under the Law was circumcised?

Answer: No; For Abraham had a Command then from God to circumcise his Infant Seed, but Believers have no Command to baptise their Infants Seed under the Gospel.¹

1. Genesis 17:9–12

Question 73 - Seeing the Infants of Believers are in the Covenant of Grace with their Parents, as some say, why may not they be baptized under the Gospel, as well as Abrahams Infant Seed was circumcised under the Law?

Answer: By the Infants of Believers being in the Covenant of Grace, it must either be meant of the Covenant of Grace absolutely considered, and if so, then there is no total and final Apostacy of any Infant seed of Believers from the Covenant, but all must be saved then.¹Or, 2. They must mean conditionally, on consideration that when they come to years of maturity, they by true Faith, Love, and Holiness of life, taking hold of God's Covenant of Grace, shall have the Priviledges of it. This being their sence, I then demand what real spiritual priviledg the Infant-Seed of Believers, as such, have more than the Infant Seed of Unbelievers, if they live also to years of maturity, and by true Faith and Love take hold of God's Covenant?²I further demand, whether the Seal of the Covenant do not under those considerations belong as much to the Children of Unbelievers as to the Children of Believers? yea, and more too, under consideration the Infant Seed of the Unbeliever should take hold of God's Covenant, and the Believers Infant-Seed do not; as often this is seen to the sorrow of many Godly Parents.³³ Suppose all the Infant Seed of Believers absolutely in the Covenant of Grace; yet Believers under the Gospel ought no more to Baptise their Infant-Seed, than Lot to circumcise himself or his Infant-Seed, if he had had Males as well as Females, albeit nearly related to Abraham, yea, a Believer, and in the Covenant of Grace too: forasmuch as Circumcision was limited to Abraham and to his Family. Also by the same rule we may bring Infants to the Lord's Table, forasmuch as the same qualifications are required to the due performance of Baptism, as there is to the Lord's Supper.⁴⁴ We must know the Covenant made with Abraham had two parts: first, a spiritual, which consisted in God's promising to be a God to⁵Abraham, and⁶all his Spiritual-Seed in a peculiar manner, whether they were circumcised or uncircumcised, which believed as Abraham the Father of the Faithful did. And this was signified in God's accepting such as his People which were not of⁷Abrahams Seed, but bought with his Mony, and this Promise was sealed to Abraham by Circumcision, that through Jesus Christ (whom Isaac typified out) the Gentiles, the Uncircumcision which believed, should have their Faith counted for Righteousness, as Abrahams was before he was circumcised.⁸² This Promise consisted of temporal good: so God promised Abrahams Seed should enjoy the⁹Land of Canaan, and have plenty of outward blessings, so sealed this Promise by Circumcision. It was also a distinguishing character of the Jews being God's People from all the Nations of the Gentiles, which as yet were not the Seed of Abraham: but when the Gentiles came to believe, and by Faith became the People of God as well as the Jews, then¹⁰Circumcision, that distinguishing Mark, ceased; and the character of being the Children of God now, is Faith in Christ, and Circumcision of the Heart. So that whatever pretence there may be for the Infants of Believers to be Baptised first, as their being the Seed of Believers; or 2dly, their being in the Covenant; or 3dly, that the Infant-Seed of Abraham a Believer, was circumcised; all this you see avails nothing: for Circumcision was limited to such a Family, the Family of Abraham, all others, though Believers, were excluded; also limited to such a day, the eighth day, and what ever pretence might be made, it was not to be done before nor after; limited also to such a Sex, the Male, not the Female; which if Baptism came in the room of Circumcision, and is the Seal of the Covenant under the Gospel, as Circumcision was under the Law, none but the Males must be Baptised, because none but the Males were Circumciled; but as under the Law respecting Circumcision, so now under the Gospel respecting Baptism, it depends purely upon the will of the Law-giver, at what season, upon what Persons and terms Baptism is to be administred; unto which Prophet we shall all do well to hearken, Acts 3:22.

Question 74 - How art thou admonished and assured in Baptism, that thou art Partaker of the only Sacrifice of Christ?

Answer: ¹Because Christ commanded the outward washing of Water, adjoining²this Promise thereunto, that I am no less assuredly washed by his Blood and Spirit from the uncleanness of my Soul, that is, from all my Sins, than I am³washed outwardly with Water, whereby all the Filthiness of the Body useth to be purged.

Answer: In the Institution of Baptism, the words whereof are these,¹Go, teach all Nations, baptising them in the Name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost:²he that shall believe, and be baptised, shall be saved; but he that will not believe, shall be damned. This Promise is repeated again when as the Scripture calleth Baptism the washing of the New-birth, and forgiveness of Sins.³the washing of the New-birth, and⁴forgiveness of Sins.

 2. 1 John 1:7; 1 Corinthians 6:11

Question 78 - Why then doth the Holy Ghost call Baptism the washing of the New-birth, and forgiveness of Sins?

Answer: God speaketh so not without great cause, to wit, not only to teach us that as the filth of our Body is purged by Water, so our Sins also are¹purged by the Blood and Spirit of Christ, but much more to assure us by this divine Token and Pledg, that we are as verily washed from our Sins with the inward washing, as we are²washed by the outward and visible Water.

 3. Ephesians 1:13–14

Question 81 - Is it the Duty of every Christian to be under this Practice?

Answer: It is so: And appeareth plainly, if we do first consider the Practice of the Primitive Saints, we may read in Acts 8:12–19, of Men and Women that were baptized by Philip in Samaria, which when the Church at Jerusalem heard thereof, they sent down St. Peter and St. John (two Apostles) to them, who when they came thither, laid their Hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.¹What, them! some may say? were these they that were baptized which were Men and Women? So likewise in Acts 19:6–7. When Paul came to Ephesus he found certain Disciples there who were baptised, but had not heard whether there was any Holy Ghost, nor I conceive of the Promise of the Holy Ghost mentioned in Acts 1:4 then the Apostle layeth his Hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost; and it is said the number of them was about twelve; and Reason sheweth us from this place, and Acts 8 where St. Peter and St. John laid hands on Men and Women, that had here bin twelve score, he would have laid his Hands on them all. And whereas 'tis objected, we do not find the three thousand in Acts 2 under this Ordinance, nor many others which were baptised. As to the three thousand 'tis plain enough they had bin taught it, and doubtless so practised this Ordinance, if we consider the Apostle writing to the Jews, in Hebrews 5 telleth them they had need be taught again the first Principles of the Oracles of God, of which Oracles, Laying on of Hands was one. And as for others which were baptised, where mention is not made of their being under this Ordinance, we may also say many hundreds were baptised which we have no mention of. Shall we conclude many of the Apostles were not baptised, because it is not particularly mentioned? so we must conclude the primitive Saints were not short in this point, although it be not always specified; forasmuch as it is called one of God's Oracles, as we all know the Moral Law was, wch is perpetually binding, and universally obliging; also called a²Principle of Christs Doctrine, yea one of the first Principles; and that is not all, but called a foundation Principle, this with the other five must be laid first in that foundation, on which the Superstructure of Christianity must be built. And would it not have bin very unbecoming the Jews when God gave them ten Commandments, for them to have excluded the fourth? is it not also as unbecoming for any to exclude the fourth Principle of Laying on of Hands, a practical Principle of the Doctrine of Christ, and so practised by the Primitive Christians?

1. Hebrews 5.1–2; Acts 7:38; Hebrews 1:2

2. Hebrews 5.1–2; Acts 7:38; Hebrews 1:2

Question 82 - Did not the extraordinary Gifts of the Spirit follow upon laying on of Hands in the Apostles time?

Answer: It did so: But not simply as the end of that Ordinance. For that Ordinance was appointed for the Ordinary Gifts of the Spirit to the Worlds end; though it is true, God honoured and crowned that Ordinance with Signes and Wonders in the primitive time, as he did others of his Appointment: as for instance, Acts 4 the Place was shaken, as the effect of the Churches Prayer; so Preaching was extraordinarily crowned when St. Peter converted three thousand at one Sermon; and in God's giving the Holy Ghost to the House of Cornelius while Peter was preaching, so that they spake with Tongues, Acts 10. Also God crowned the holy Ordinance of Baptism extraordinarily, when the Spirit came in the likeness of a Dove, and sate upon our Saviour Christ as he came out of the Water, Matthew 3 and a Voice heard from Heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Also the Eunuch's Baptism was wonderfully confirmed to him in God's taking away Philip as soon as he came up out of the Water, insomuch that he went away rejoycing. Now, Beloved, as Prayer, Baptisme, Preaching, doth not cease, though it be not so miraculously owned as in the Primitive times; neither doth laying on of Hands cease, from the same Parity of Reason, though it be not so crowned now, as in the Apostles Days. Moreover our Brethren generally do hold, that five of those Principles in Hebrews 6 are the Duty of every individual Member to believe and practise, namely, every Member (say they) ought to repent, believe, be baptized, believe the Resurrection of the dead, and eternal Judgment; and why this of laying on of Hands should be excluded from being the Practice of every Christian, being a practical Ordinance, the bare belief of it not being enough, it being among the universal Principles of Christ's Doctrine, I never yet did, nor cannot see any good Reason.

4. Of the Lord's Supper

Question 83 - How art thou in the Lords Supper admonished and warranted that thou art Partaker of that only Sacrifice of Christ offered on the Cross, and of all his Benefits?

Answer: Because Christ hath commanded me and all the Faithful to eat of this Bread broken, and to drink of this Cup, distributed in Remembrance of him, with this Promise¹adjoyned, first, that his Body was as certainly broken and offered for me upon the Cross, and his Blood shed for me, as I behold with my Eyes the Bread of the Lord broken unto me, and the Cup communicated unto me: and further, that my Soul is no less assuredly fed to everlasting life with his Body, which was crucified for me, and his Blood which was shed for me, than I receive and taste by the Mouth of my Body, the Bread and Wine, the Signs of the Body and Blood of our Lord, received at the Hand of the Minister.

Question 84 - What is it to eat the Body of Christ?

Answer: It is not only to imbrace, by an assured Confidence of Mind, the whole Passion and Death of Christ, and thereby,¹to obtain Forgiveness of Sins, and everlasting Life, but also by the Holy Ghost, who dwelleth both in Christ, and us, so more and more to²be united to his sacred Body, that though he be³in Heaven, and we on Earth, yet nevertheless we are Flesh of his Flesh, and Bone of his⁴Bones: and as all the Members of the Body are quickned by one Soul: so are we also quickned and⁵guided by one and the same Spirit.

Question 85 - Where hath Christ promised that he will as certainly give his Body and Blood so to be eaten and drunken, as they eat this Bread broken, and drink this Cup?

Answer: In the Institution of the Supper, the Words whereof are these.¹Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Night that he was betrayed, took Bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat, this is my Body which is broken for you: this do in Remembrance of me. Likewise also he took the Cup, when he had supped, and²said, This Cup, is the new Testament in my³Blood; this do as often as ye shall drink it in Remembrance of me: for as often as ye shall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup, ye shew the Lords Death till he come. This Promise, is repeated by St. Paul where he saith, The Cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the Communion of the Blood of Christ? the Bread which we break, is it not the Communion of the Body of⁴Christ? for we that are many, are one Bread, and one Body, because we are all Partakers of one Bread.

Question 86 - Are then the Bread and Wine made the very Body and Blood of Christ?

Answer: No, verily; but as the Water of Baptism is¹not turned into the Blood of Christ, but is only a Signe and Pledge of those things that are sealed to us in Baptism; so neither is the Bread of the Lords Supper the very Body²of Christ, although according to the manner of Sacraments, and³that Form of speaking of them which is usual unto the Holy Ghost, the Bread is called the Body of Christ.

Question 87 - Why then doth Christ call Bread his Body, and the Cup his Blood, or the new Testament in his Blood; and St. Paul calleth Bread and Wine the Communion of the Body and Blood of Christ?

Answer: Christ not without great Consideration speaketh so, to wit, not only for to teach us that as the Bread and Wine sustain the Life of the Body, so also his crucified Body, and Blood shed, are indeed the Meat and Drink of our Souls, whereby they¹are nourished to eternal Life; but much more that by this visible Signe and Pledg, he may assure us that we are as verily Partakers of his Body and Blood, through the working of the²Holy Ghost, as we do perceive by the Mouth of our Body, these holy Signes in Remembrance of him; and further also, that his Sufferings and Obedience is so certainly ours, as though we our selves had suffered Punishments for our Sins, and had satisfied God.

Question 88 - What Difference is there between the Supper of the Lord, and the Popish Mass?

Answer: The Supper of the Lord testifieth unto us, that we have perfect Forgiveness of all our Sins, for that only Sacrifice of Christ, which himself once¹fully wrought on the Cross; then also that we by Faith are grafted into²Christ, who now according to his Human Nature is only in Heaven at the Right Hand of³his Father, and there will be⁴worshipped of us. But in the Mass it is denied that the quick and the dead have Remission of Sins, for the only Passion of Christ, except Christ also be daily offered for them by their Sacrificers: Further, also it is taught, that Christ is bodily under the Forms of Bread and Wine, and therefore is to be worshipped in them: and so the very Foundation of the Mass is nothing else but an utter denial of that only Sacrifice and Passion of Christ Jesus, and an accursed Idolatry.

Answer: In singing Praises to God vocally and audibly for his great Benefits and Blessings to his Church in the shedding of the most precious Blood of his Son to take away their Sin; which Blessings are pointed out in this Sacrament. Also we find our Lord and his Disciples did close up this Ordinance in singing an Hymn or Psalm; and if Christ did sing, who was going to dy, what cause have we to sing for whom he died, that we might not eternally dy, but live a spiritual and eternal life with Father, Son, and Spirit in unexpressible Glory.¹

Answer: That one Day in seven be kept in the Worship of God, which under the old Testament was the last Day of the Week, but under the Gospel changed to the first Day of the Week, and this Lord's Day to be spent in private and publique Devotion, as hearing the Word diligently, practising the Gospel-Sacraments zealously, and doing Deeds of Charity conscionably, and resting from servil Works, cases of necessity excepted, this being the laudable Practice of the holy Apostles, who best knew the Mind of Christ as to the time of Worship; neither do we find in all the new Testament, that any Gospel Church in the Apostles times did set any other Day apart solemnly to worship God, save the first Day: and well might they so do, for if Israel, the natural Seed of Abraham, was to keep the seventh Day, to keep up the Remembrance of their Deliverance out of temporal Bondage, how much more are we bound to keep the first Day in Remembrance of Christ's Deliverance of us from eternal Bondage?¹

Question 137 - Why will God then have his Law to be so exactly and severely preached seeing there is no Man in this life able to keep it?

Answer: First, That all our life time we more & more¹acknowledg the great proneness of our Nature to Sin, and so much the more²greedily desire remission of Sins, and Righteousness in Christ. Secondly, That we be doing of this always, and always thinking of it, and so implore and crave of the Father the³Grace of his Holy Spirit, whereby we may daily more and more be renewed to the Image and likeness of God, until at length after we are departed out of this life we may joyfully attain unto that Perfection which is promised unto us.

6. Of Prayer

Question 138 - Wherefore is Prayer necessary for Christians?

Answer: Because it is the chief part of that thankfulness which God requireth of us, and also because God giveth them only his Grace and Holy Spirit, who with unfeigned gronings beg them continually of him and yeild him thanks for them.¹

Question 139 - What is required unto that Prayer which shall please God, and be heard of him?

Answer: That we ask of the only true God, who hath¹manifested himself in his Word, all things which he hath commanded to be²asked of him with a true affection and desire of our Heart, and through an inward³feeling of our need and⁴misery cast our selves down prostrate in the presence of his Divine Majesty, and⁵build our selves on this sure foundation, that we though unworthy, yet for Christ's sake are⁶certainly heard of God, even as he hath⁷promised us in his Word.

Question 140 - What are those things which he commandeth us to ask of him?

Answer: All things¹necessary both for Soul and Body, which our Lord Jesus Christ hath comprised in that Prayer, which himself hath taught us.

1. Matthew 6:13; James 1:17

Question 141 - What Prayer is that?

Answer: Our Father which art in Heaven, hallowed be thy Name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy Will be done on Earth, as it is in Heaven. Give us this Day our daily Bread: And forgive us our Trespaffes, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into Temptation, but deliver us from Evil: for thine is the Kingdom, the Power, and the Glory, for ever and ever, Amen.

Question 142 - Are Christians tied to this very Form of Prayer?

Answer: We are not; our Lord here delivereth to his Church a brief Sum of those things which we are to ask of God, but yet Christ will have us also to descend unto specials, and to ask particular Benefits: for this Form prescribed is nothing else but a Set or Course of certain Heads or Generals, whereunto all Benefits both corporal and spiritual may be referred; but yet all particulars of Prayer must agree & correspond with this general Form, although we are not tied to this Form, as appeareth from James 1:5 where the Apostle exhorts the Saints, if any did lack Wisdom, they should ask of God, which giveth to all liberally, but these as touching the Words, are not in the Form of Prayer particularly expressed, though they are included. Besides, we have Examples of Prayer both in the old and new Testament, which are not the very Form here expressed, albeit, all they asked was comprehended in this Prayer, wherefore the Form of Prayer delivered unto us by Christ, is wholly a thing indifferent.

Question 143 - Why doth Christ teach us to call God our Father?

Answer: That presently in the very Entrance and Beginning of the Prayer, he might stir up in us such a Reverence, and Confidence of God as is meet for the Sons of God, which must be the ground and foundation of our Prayer, to wit, that God through Christ is made our¹Father, and will much less deny us these things which we ask of him with a true Faith, than our earthly Parents deny unto us earthly things.

Answer: Forgive us our Trespaffes, as we forgive them that trespass against us. That is, even for the Blood of Christ do not¹impute unto us most miserable and wretched sinners all our Offences, neither that Corruption which still cleaveth unto us, even as we also feel this Testimony of thy Grace in our Hearts, that we stedfastly purpose unfeignedly from²our Hearts, to pardon and forgive all those who have offended us.

Question 150 - What is the sixth Petition?

Answer: Lead us not into Temptation, but deliver us from Evil. That is, because we our selves, are so feeble and weak by Nature, that¹we cannot stand so much as one Moment or Instant, and our most deadly Enemies²Satan, the³World, and our own⁴Flesh do incessantly oppugne and assault us, uphold thou us, and establish and strengthen us by the might of thy Spirit, that we may not in this spiritual⁵Combat yield as vanquished, but may so long stoutly withstand them, until at length⁶we get the full and perfect victory.
